

Reimagine banking.

Let's shape the digital future of UBS together.

Join us and meet our female tech community!

Why UBS?

We're not just big on finance; we love tech too. We're all about embracing a digital future, being engineering-focused and outcome-driven.

We're a global community of over 20,000 technologists, working with the latest technology. In a nutshell, we're using tech to reshape banking as we know it today and continue to build it into our digitalized world.

Experience what it's like to drive real and practical digital innovation. From cyber, big data, dev-ops, machine learning, blockchain, engineering (software and systems), AI and project management, we've got it all.
